RESTON COMMUNITY ORCHESTRA's
2009-2010 Season
Dingwall Fleary, Music Director

Discovery & Reminiscence

Dingwall Fleary,
Music Director

This is your invitation to come and hear Reston's resounding musical sound, the Reston Community Orchestra (RCO). The concerts this year will take your ears on a most interesting and intriguing musical journey. Traveling back in time, the orchestra will capture the age of many great composers such as the little known Bernard Crussell, a contemporary of the great Beethoven, another composer on our tour.

As we move forward in time, we'll savor the familiar piano music of Chopin, and the exotic orchestral colors of Coleridge-Taylor and Debussy. Along the way we'll veer off the beaten path to the world of living, breathing American composers. Among them will be David Rubinstein, who happens to live in nearby Herndon, and Adolphus Hailstork, who resides in the Virginia Tidewater region. No longer with us is Missouri born Don Gillis, known for his tongue-in-cheek wit.

Thanks to a generous gift, RCO gives you a world premier of a Symphony by David Ott, of Florida. With wonderful solo artists, and, of all things, a juggler, you will indeed enjoy a journey of Discovery and Reminiscence. See inside for details, then join us!

—Dingwall Fleary

All concerts except the Annual Benefit are held at the Reston Community Center, 2310 Colts Neck Rd, at the Hunter's Woods Village Center. Call 703.476.4500.
